REPORT

OF THE

Superintendent of Schools.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—At the close of another school year, complying with law and usage, the following report of the public schools is respectfully submitted:—

The success of the several schools has met reasonable expectations; that all of the pupils gave evidence of good scholarship, and were tardy or absent only for good reasons, is not claimed; but with many punctual attendance, and close application, commendable advancement was evident. Most of the teachers employed during the year have had considerable experience: they had received Normal School training. The Prudential Committee secured teachers who, without exception, appeared faithful to the schools under their charge.

An Act of the last Legislature, regulating the attendance of teachers upon teachers' institutes, provides that, "The time not exceeding three days in any one term, or five days in one year, actually spent by a teacher of any public school in the state in attendance upon a teachers' institute, held in accordance with the laws of the state, under the direction of the superintendent or public instruction, shall be considered time lawfully expended by such teacher in the service of the district where such teacher is employed, and deduction of wages shall be made for such absences."

It is to be hoped that our teachers will avail themselves of the advantages of these institutes which cannot fail to be of great benefit under such an able instructor as our state superintendent and eminent assistants.

The close of the school year terminates by virtue of statute law, the district system to be succeeded by the town system of schools.

That all of our schools in town have greatly decreased in numbers since their establishment, no one will deny.

That all of our schools have equal advantages, none can affirm.

A fundamental principle of our free institutions is equal rights and privileges guaranteed to all; if the new law, impartially executed, shall upon trial, give to all the scholars in town as nearly equal advantages as may be practicable, no person can have just cause to regret the change.

The registers show that the several schools have been largely visited during the year by parents and other citizens, a practice which cannot be too highly commended.

DISTRICT NO. 1,—SOUTH ROAD.

Prudential Committee, Enoch T. Harvy.

Summer term taught by Miss Amelia A. Stevens.

This teacher, although not as physically strong as could have been desired, is a teacher of fine attainments and much perseverance, faithfully devoting her skill and energies to those entrusted to her care. The school appeared well at the close, as might be expected, standing as it does at the head of the list in town.

Roll of Perfect Attendance,—11.

Fall and winter terms taught by Frank B. Chase, of Tilton.

This teacher has taught many schools. He rules in the school room by love, rather than with a rod of iron. Several classes of the older scholars are well advanced in the acquisition of a good common school education, also the younger classes passed a good examination. Writing, beside being taught in school was also taught in an evening school by A. E. Quimby, without charge, the advantages of which could hardly fail to be appreciated by the scholars. The school room has been much improved the past season, and with new school furniture would not only make it more attractive, but add to the comfort of the scholars.

Fall term Roll of Perfect Attendance,—11. Winter term, —16.

DISTRICT NO. 2.—CENTRE ROAD.

Prudential Committee, Mrs. Frederick S. Fifield.

Summer and fall terms taught by Miss Sarah E. Sawyer, of Webster.

A teacher of experience and perfectly at home in the school room, taking a lively interest in the advancement of her scholars. The examinations reflected much credit to both teacher and school. The attendance at the second term by reason of sickness was very irregular.

Roll of Perfect Attendance, first term,—2.

Winter term taught by Miss Sadie E. Shaw.

Miss Shaw is one of our younger teachers, but with her energy and perseverance acquitted herself with much credit. Those that went to school to learn showed good results, scholars that went but little and studied less, reaped as they sowed. But few of the scholars are far advanced in their text books.

Roll of Perfect Attendance third term,—1.

DISTRICT NO. 3.—GREELEY.

Prudential Committee, Nathaniel Greeley.

Fall term taught by Miss Fannie E. Sawyer.

A competent teacher, and with a larger school could have shown larger results. Careful and correct teaching was manifest, the scholars giving satisfactory evidence of improvement at the close.

Winter term taught by Miss Bell E. Croson.

One of our young go-a-head teachers. She did what she could, but did not have much to do; found only three scholars in attendance at either visit, and they were imported into the district; one was a beginner; the second not far advanced; the third a studious, bright scholar. A quiet, orderly school, no whispering. Good school room; well furnished with maps, charts, etc.

DISTRICT NO. 4.—SCRIBNER'S CORNER.

Prudential Committee, Frank P. Rand.

One term taught by Nellie J. Rogers.

This teacher is continuously employed by this district, to the evident advantage of the school. Taking the entire school it ranks among the first in scholarship. The examination at the close very good.

Roll of Perfect Attendance,—1.

DISTRICT No. 5,—NORTH ROAD.

Prudential Committee, Joseph Welch.

We found the same teacher in this school as last year, Miss Morgia A. Shaw, teaching both terms the present year. She is an able, experienced teacher, quiet, and at home in the school room. Here are some keen, bright scholars, who attend school to learn. Parents, teacher and pupils appeared in perfect sympathy; as a result, good progress was made at each term.

Roll of Perfect Attendance, first term, 2. Second term, 2.

DISTRICT No. 6,—MILLS.

Prudential Committee, A. B. Huntoon.

First term taught by Mrs. F. H. Dunlap.

This was her fourth term with this school; a wide-awake-push-a-head teacher. Those that continued members of the school, and were faithful to themselves until the close of the term were a credit to themselves, teacher and parents.

Roll of Perfect Attendance, 8.

Fall term, taught by Miss Gustie J. Stone, of Webeter.

This teacher is mistress of the situation, knowing the school room in all its bearings, and soon learns to adapt herself to a new house and new school. The terms in this district are largely visited by parents and others. The examination very good, considering the shortness of the term.

Roll of Perfect Attendance, 8.

Winter term. This term was under the instruction of Ernest C. Currier, who is too well known in town as an educator, to need any words of introduction. Teacher and scholars were just settled into their best work, when each day counted to the great advantage of the school, and the classes in the midst of the text books, the term closed. The examination showed thorough drill and faithful work.

Roll of Perfect Attendance, 7.

DISTRICT No. 7,—SMITH'S CORNER

Prudential Committee, Daniel S. Scribner.

Two terms, both taught by Miss Myra A. Little, of Webster.

This teacher sustained her reputation in this school which she gained last year. Although a small school it does not compare unfavorably with other larger schools in acquirements. The proposed repairs on the school house were deferred for the present.

Roll of Perfect Attendance first term, 4. Second term, 3.

DISTRICT No. 8,—THOMPSON'S CORNER.

Prudential Committee, Calno Emerson.

One term, taught by Miss Josie C. Shaw.

This was Miss Shaw's first experience as teacher. She is a good scholar and met all reasonable expectations in discharging her duties in connection with this school. This district has but little schooling. The scholars give ample credit for all the advantages they receive.

Roll of Perfect Attendance, 4.

DISTRICT No. 9,—LOVERIN'S HILL.

Prudential Committee, Charles A. Green.

This district has been without schooling during the entire year, drawing no money the past two years.

DISTRICT No. 10,—MOUNTAIN.

Prudential Committee, Frank A. Watson.

A single term taught by Miss Delia S. Colby.

Considering where the teacher found the school at the beginning of the term, and the very short session, the closing examination was very creditable, not only to the scholars, but decidedly so on the part of the teacher, who must have given much patient and persistent efforts to those under her charge.

Roll of Perfect Attendance, 1.

DISTRICT No. 11,—RACON HILL.

Prudential Committee, Hale P. Shaw.

A winter term of twelve weeks, taught by Miss Lizzie B. Rogers.

A good teacher in a good school. This school is more advanced than we could expect with their home advantages. Some of the scholars have attended school in adjoining districts, others have availed themselves of the privileges of an Academy. The parents appear determined to educate their children at home if they can, abroad, if they must. We visited the school the week before the close, unexpected both to teacher and school. The examination was long continued, patiently endured on the part of the scholars, and very satisfactorily concluded.

FREDERICK S. FIFIELD,

Superintending School Committee.
